

POLITICS MIXED IN THIS COUNTY

Former Saloon Man Now on the Stump for the Democrats and a Former Republican Embarrasses Stalwarts in the Sixth Ward By Making a Political Talk.

B. F. Grant, brother of Apostle Heber J. Grant, is stumping the state in the interests of prohibition. He was a saloon man at one time and conducted a large livery house, livery and sale stable, and a general merchandising place at Milford, Utah. He attended to his business affairs during the day and at night played poker with sheep herders and shearers, freights and traveling men. In this line of business he made a good deal of money.

Since the Milford days B. F. Grant has become converted to the idea of total abstinence and abhors the game of cards, or other gambling devices. He is a Republican in politics, but this year he has gone over to the other side.

This afternoon, in company with Mrs. Julia F. Lund of Salt Lake, he will meet with a number of ladies of Ogden at Democratic headquarters for the purpose of discussing the liquor traffic question and perfecting an organization through which the women may aid in the prohibition cause.

Tonight Mr. Grant and Mrs. Lund will speak to the people of Plain City, tomorrow night they will appear at West Weber and on Friday night they will be seen at Wilson.

The schedule for the Republican speakers in Weber county has not been prepared, but Secretary Packer states that it is being arranged this afternoon and will likely be announced tomorrow morning.

Members of the Weber county Republican committee called at Republican headquarters yesterday and arranged for a series of meetings for Ogden and vicinity. October 28 and October 29, Jacob Evans will deliver addresses in Weber county, and Carl A. Badger will speak at Ogden November 2 and November 3. Other meetings for the county will probably be arranged for today.

Weber county in the past has been remarkably free from party bickering, particularly regarding the church and state contention that so much disturbs the state capital, but last Sunday the apple of discord was thrown among the church goers when A. W. Agee, a member of the Ogden Betterment League, occupied the pulpit in the tabernacle in a strong declaration favoring the prohibition idea as espoused by the Democrats. Republicans felt that it was grossly unjust to permit such a speech in the tabernacle at Sunday services, but Democrats thought it pretty fine work.

It is said, though, that the climax came in the evening when Mr. Agee addressed the Sixth ward meeting in about the same vein and when Bishop H. C. Jacobs talked in even stronger terms than Agee on the question of prohibition. Both Agee and Jacobs are Republicans and it was about all the Republicans present could do to remain in the house and listen to the talk, but, it is said, the real climax was reached when Fred W. Chambers, a staunch Republican and an officer of the state by grace of the Republican party, was called upon to offer the benediction. Mr. Chambers thought it was bad enough for him to have to listen to two Republicans offer Democratic doctrine in church, but that it was making the pressure a little too hard when he was required to say "amen" to it all.

ent nations were given, and examples of the folk music of Germany, Bohemia, Russia, Poland, Hungary and other countries were rendered, not forgetting some of our own American songs, at the close the listeners believed, with the poet, that music is the universal language of mankind.

"500" PARTY.

The "500" club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Matt Browning. A delightful time was had, the social hour and delicious refreshments eclipsing the pleasure of the card games.

The home was decorated in keeping with Halloween week, large and small yellow pumpkins, trailing pumpkin vines and yellow blossoms. Mother Goose designs and Jack-o-lanterns with little candles made an attractive picture. Shades were drawn and lights with yellow shades in harmony with the decorative scheme were used.

A unique souvenir was given. The guests were: Mesdames H. C. Wood, E. T. Hulaniski, Ezra Rich, Abe Kuhn, Thomas Fitzgerald, Joe Scowcroft, R. T. Hume, A. Walker, H. H. Spencer, P. Healy and H. C. Bigelow.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The pleasant home of Mrs. Wm. Hall, on Harrisville avenue, was invaded by the members of the Neighborhood club recently, the occasion being the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Hall. A pleasant social time was had, the presentation of a beautiful hand bag, the gift of the club, with appropriate remarks and wishes for "many happy returns of the day," being an enjoyable feature of the affair.

An elaborate luncheon was served by her daughters. The members present were: Mrs. Stringham, Mrs. Poulson, Mrs. Redfield, Mrs. Gibbs, Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Hewes, Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Aagren and many friends.

THIMBLE SOCIETY.

The W. R. C. Thimble society met last Thursday with Mrs. Mary P. Coach at her home on Lincoln avenue and another beautiful quilt was finished. The lucky chance on the hand, some quilt finished prior to that of Thursday was held by Mrs. Henry Wessler. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. C. T. Koons.

FAREWELL PARTY.

A farewell dancing party was given in the Third ward amusement hall last evening in honor of Elder Ernest J. Wright, who leaves early next month on a foreign mission. Excellent music was furnished by Fernand's orchestra.

tra of four pieces and the three hundred guests present thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Whitney left this week for their home at Santa Cruz, Cal., after a pleasant month's visit at the home of Mrs. Stringham, 218 North Washington avenue.

The Halcyon Sewing club will meet next Friday afternoon with Mrs. E. M. Conroy.

Thursday evening Shakespearean characters will be cleverly and artistically portrayed at the Episcopal Guild hall under the direction of Mrs. R. S. Farnsworth. Tall men and pretty girls will pose and some of the most noted Shakespearean songs will be given. A fine dancing program will follow.

Miss Rosalie Holberg has been engaged to sing every Sunday evening at the First Methodist Episcopal church on Twenty-fourth street.

Mrs. D. J. Sheehan will leave tomorrow morning for Salt Lake where she is numbered among the guests bidden to an elaborate bridge tea to be given tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. Whitely.

The children's Aid society is holding a special meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. F. Gosling. Matters of urgent importance are being placed before the society for consideration and action.

Dainty little invitations are being sent out this afternoon bidding twenty-five little guests to the Sheehan home on Adams avenue, Saturday evening, when Miss Helen Marie Sheehan will entertain at a Halloween party from 7 to 9 o'clock. A real old-fashioned Halloween is planned and the merriest, gladdest time imaginable is anticipated.

Unique invitations are out bidding a large number to a matinee party at the Orpheum tomorrow as the guests of Mrs. A. A. Wenger and daughter, Miss Helen Wenger.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keane are visiting with Mr. Keane's relatives in Ithaca, New York, where they are having a glorious time. Butte, St. Paul, Chicago and Buffalo were visited en route and a pleasant and interesting trip was enjoyed.

Mrs. Richard Van Derck, wife of the chief clerk in R. B. Post's office, has returned from Chicago after a three-weeks' trip. Miss Ida Van Derck, her sister-in-law has returned with her to make an extended visit.

E. H. Line has returned from a three-months' visit in New York, Pennsylvania and other eastern cities. Mrs. Line had a delightful trip and returns much improved.

Mrs. J. E. Snyder left this week for Santa Cruz, Cal., to spend the winter.

Mrs. H. H. Spencer will entertain a few guests tomorrow afternoon in honor of Mrs. Max Pigman. Mr. Pigman will arrive Friday and will also be a guest of the Spencers who are old time friends of the noted actor.

WORK ON THE ICE PONDS RESUMED

In the case of the Farr Improvement company against Samuel Thomas and Bernard Stone, Judge Howell has rendered a decision dissolving the temporary restraining order.

The suit was brought to settle a dispute regarding the boundary line between lands owned by the two parties, and the plaintiffs asked that the defendants be restrained from using certain lands involved in the dispute, until such time as the equity rights could be adjusted.

The hearing in the case yesterday was on the order of the court to the defendants to show cause why they should not be restrained from using the lands in question.

As soon as the court ruled that the restraining order should not remain in force, Manager Thomas of the Ogden Ice company ordered the J. P. O'Neill Construction company to resume work on the company's ice pond north of the city and the work was taken up again this morning. The company had begun the construction of a large ice pond on a part of the land embraced in the controversy and when the suit was commenced they were forced to cease operations.

CHARGE OF VAGRANCY

E. E. Chase, an aged man, charged with vagrancy, very stoutly denied that he was anything but a hard working man out of employment. Despite his protests, he was found guilty of the charge and sentenced to serve thirty days in prison.

Detective Wardlaw, who arrested Chase, was called to the stand and told the story of the man's arrest. According to the officer, Chase has no visible means of support but is a sort of ward of the police officers. The old man spends his time in the city park and has been sleeping on the park benches during the summer and fall.

"We just brought him in," said the officers, "for his own good. It is getting pretty cold in the park at night and he ought to have some warmer clothing. If we keep him around here awhile, we will be able to fix him up in more comfortable condition when he leaves."

Chase refused to recognize the philanthropy of the arresting officer and denied that he was in the park at night dependent upon the generosity of the police for a living.

"I work for anything that I get," he insisted, "and I don't want any help from the city. I've been working up till a short time ago and I have been trying to get work right along."

"How hard have you tried?" asked the judge, smiling.

"I've tried as hard as anybody else tries," retorted the prisoner, apparently offended by the question of the court.

"Well, I'll give you 30 days in prison," drawled out the judge.

"Judge, you're awful accommodating," was the prisoner's parting shot at the court as he left the witness chair and was led by the jailer to the prison door.

BRIGHAM TO HAVE ITS CAR BARN

The Ogden Rapid Transit company has purchased real estate in Brigham city upon which will be built car barns and a residence for employees of the road who will have occasion to make that city headquarters.

The property is virtually in the heart of the city, being only a little more than three blocks from the county court house.

It is stated by members of the official staff of the company that building operations will begin in the near future, and will be continued until the necessary buildings are ready for use.

BUILDING ON

The concrete finisher on Hudson avenue states that the walks on the avenue, including the sidewalk on each side will be completed Friday evening, if the weather keeps fair.

The concrete basement for the Browning machine shops on the west side of the avenue is nearly finished and by the beginning of next week the brick masons will be at work laying the walls.

The basement for the new business block in course of construction by the Perry Estate, has been finished and the building of the two stories above the basement will be begun within the next few days. One of the members of the firm states that it is quite probable that the block will be built three stories high, instead of two as originally planned.

Wrights' Shoe Department

Berlin need not consider the raising of the bank rate. Whether the present rate would hold until the end of the year depended, Herr Havenstein said, on foreign exchange. The excess of gold imports for 1910 up to last Saturday was $36,250,000 of which the Reichsbank held $17,500,000.

VAGRANTS AND
DRUNKS IN JAIL

Fred Henderson, J. W. Murray, Pat Murphy, Tom Loler, Fred Stewart and May Francis answered guilty in police court this morning to the charge of being unlawfully drunk and were each fined $5 or five days.

Mary L. Burton, who yesterday pleaded not guilty to the charge of drunkenness, was given a hearing this morning and reiterated her former statement that she was perfectly sober when arrested. The arresting officer stated that the woman was either drunk or badly under the influence of drugs when he took her into custody on last Saturday night.

Mrs. Burton took the stand and stated that, while she used to get drunk, she had "cut it out" and was not drinking on the night in question. Judge J. D. Murphy took the case under consideration and will render a verdict tomorrow morning. Pending the decision of the court, the woman was placed under a bond of $5.

Jack Cratty, without hesitation pleaded guilty to being a vagrant and was given ten days in prison.

John Riley would not admit that he had committed the offense of mendacity and was placed under a bond of $10 and his case continued.

A sentence of ninety days was meted out to John Wilson and suspended with the understanding that Wilson get out of town and stay out. The man was charged with vagrancy.

A bond of $5 was forfeited by Fred Stewart who failed to answer to the charge of having been unlawfully drunk.

GENERAL COUNSEL

SOCIETY

LISTENED TO FOLK SONG.

The members of the Historical society and a goodly number of guests enjoyed a musical program of unusual interest when they met on last Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. R. P. Hunter, on Quincy avenue. Each member responded to call with an appropriate quotation, after which the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Tracy Y. Cannon, of Salt Lake City, gave a brief sketch of the life of Edward Alexander MacDowell, and a few selections characteristic of the charm and delicacy of the compositions of MacDowell were played. An interpretation of the folk songs of the different

Try This Home-Made
Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work
Quickly, or Money Refunded.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep-seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough. This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasant.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, and is rich in galic acid and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and Sugar Syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada, that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equalled.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
